Labor in Service of a Higher Calling

From the tranquil hills south of Louisville, the Abbey of Gethsemani offers handmade delicacies crafted with devotion. Since 1848, our community of Trappist monks has lived a life of prayer, silence, and simplicity. Each day is steeped in contemplation yet set aside within this sacred rhythm are quiet hours for a different kind of offering — the careful creation of our one-of-a-kind fruitcake and fudge. Born of faithfulness, shaped by tradition, these treats are our humble gift to the world.

Divine Delicacies: The Heart of Our Livelihood

For centuries, Trappist monks have sustained their monastic communities through the work of their hands—a tradition we continue with devotion. At our abbey, we pour our care and craftsmanship into making renowned fruitcakes and rich fudge enjoyed by people around the world. These treats are our sole means of support. Each small batch is prepared with the freshest fruits and nuts, premium chocolate, and authentic Kentucky Bourbon, offering a truly homemade taste. We hope our labor of love brings joy and sweetness to you and your loved ones.

— Blessings from the Abbey of Gethsemani

A sweet taste of tradition — Gethsemani Fudge makes a heartfelt gift that delights with every creamy, handcrafted bite.

Just miles from the Abbey of Gethsemani, some of the nation's finest barrel-aged bourbon is made — and we believe it works wonders in flavor. This Kentucky classic brings notes of warm spice and smooth caramel, adding a bright yet perfectly balanced sweetness to our fruitcake. When blended into our rich, creamy fudge, it creates a depth of flavor that's irresistibly indulgent and uniquely unforgettable.
